

ADMITS HER DEFEAT AND BACKS DOWN

ITALY AGREES TO GIVE UP ABYSSINIA.

King Humbert's Envoy Has Signed the Humiliating Treaty Exacted By King Menelik—Prisoners to be Released—Foreign News of Interest by Cable.

Rome, Nov. 16.—Under date of Adis-abela, Oct. 26, Maj. Verazzini, Italy's envoy plenipotentiary to the Negus Menelik of Abyssinia, has telegraphed to the Italian government as follows:

"I have to-day, with great solemnity, signed a treaty of peace and a convention for the release of the prisoners (in Menelik's hands). The treaty provides for the restoration of the status quo pending the appointment of delegates by Italy and Abyssinia a year hence to determine the frontiers by friendly agreement. It recognizes the absolute independence of Ethiopia and abrogates the Ucciali treaty. Italy undertakes in the meantime not to cede the territory to any other power. Should she desire spontaneously to abandon the territory, it would return to the Ethiopian rule."

By the Ucciali treaty concluded in 1889 between Menelik and Italy, Abyssinia became an Italian protectorate. The settlement announced above by Maj. Verazzini is the outcome of Italian reverses at the hands of the Abyssinians.

The Negus Menelik sends a simultaneous dispatch to King Humbert, announcing the signature to the treaty and adding: "May God always keep my friends," and expressing the hope that he will make Nov. 20 a great festival in King Humbert's family, "Memorable as a day of joy for the parents of the Italian prisoners. May God long preserve the life of your majesty."

MGR. IRELAND ADMONISHED.

The St. Paul Archbishop Advised to Avoid "Irritating Discussions."

Rome, Nov. 16.—It is semi-officially stated at the Vatican that the reports circulated in the United Kingdom of the intention of the pope to remove Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul are "pure inventions." Archbishop Ireland has simply been advised from an authorized quarter to moderate his attitude, avoid irritating discussions and conform his conduct to the instruction of the holy see, especially as regards education, social questions and the favor to be accorded to religious bodies.

Pointers for the Italians.

Rome, Nov. 16.—Col. Herman Stump, superintendent of immigration of the United States, who has come to Rome for the purpose of explaining the United States immigration laws to the Italian authorities, has had several conferences since his arrival from the United States on various immigration questions. The Marquis di Rudini, the premier, has sent a circular to prefects instructing them to publish the principal provisions of the United States laws on immigration.

Socialist Murder in Greece.

Patras, Greece, Nov. 16.—A socialist killed a rich merchant, named Frange Poulou, in the open street here, and was afterward arrested. The incident has caused a sensation, and it is the first outrage of the kind which has occurred in Greece.

Effect of Bismarck's Expose.

London, Nov. 16.—The Chronicle's Rome correspondent is assured that as a result of the Bismarck disclosures Austria will propose a new clause to the dreibund treaties to counteract the effect of secret treaties.

Cuba and the Monroe Doctrine.

Paris, Nov. 16.—The Rappel suggests that Lord Salisbury's recognition of the Monroe doctrine in the Venezuela agreement will embarrass the settlement of the Cuban troubles.

SECRETARY MORTON'S REPORT

Will Deny the Claims of Depression—Has Been Economical.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Secretary Morton in his annual report, which will shortly be made public, will review the economical features of his administration and cite figures to show that he has turned back into the treasury $2,000,000 of the appropriation for the agricultural department during the four years, or $500,000 each year. This is in the neighborhood of 20 per cent of the appropriations for the year. He will contend that agricultural interests are not declining; that 72 per cent of the farms in the country are without any incumbrance, while the incumbrance on the remaining 28 per cent was incurred in the purchase and improvement of the lands.

VOORHEES DYING OF PARESIS.

Noted Indiana Senator in a Pitiable Condition at Terre Haute.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 16.—Immediately following the election, friends of Senator Voorhees began an inquiry into his condition, with a view to learning whether or not to make a fight for the complimentary nomination of the democratic caucus. It is now announced by him that no effort will be made in his behalf.

SENATOR VOORHEES.

The reason assigned is that the senator is beyond all hopes of recovery and that even were the empty honor bestowed on him his mental condition is such that he would not even understand its import. He is suffering from paresis, and has reached a stage where he is utterly unconscious of what is going on around him.

Spain Wants $50,000,000 More.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Senator Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish minister here, has received news from Madrid to the effect that in that city the government will make an announcement asking for public subscriptions on a loan of $50,000,000. While the minister said that the loan was not to be made purposely for the immediate purchase of munitions and equipments for war, yet it was probable that the bulk of the money would be used to defray expenses of the conflict now going on in Cuba.

New Orleans Defenseless.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 16.—Major J. B. Quinn, United States engineer, recognizing the comparatively defenseless position of this city against a foreign foe, has evolved an elaborate plan for the building of a series of forts twelve miles below the city at what is called English Turn. The plans of Major Quinn take into consideration the expenditure of nearly $50,000,000 and the establishments of the forts would require fully three years.

Japan Is a Dangerous Rival.

Washington, Nov. 16.—The report of the Commission of Navigation for 1896, after referring to the necessity for the passage of a free ship bill, states that our maritime rank on the Pacific is now threatened by a new rival, Japan, under liberal and progressive laws, has just established a trans-Pacific steamship line to the United States, and, with the co-operation of American capital, is preparing to extend rapidly this service.

Bismarck Well Satisfied.

London, Nov. 16.—A dispatch from Vienna to the Times quotes the Neue Freie Presse as saying that the gist of a recent talk with Prince Bismarck was that he felt satisfied with the results of the so-called revelations regarding relations of Germany and Russia prior to 1890. French nervousness, he said, had reached a height that her confidence in Russia's support in any contingency made the danger of war quite imminent.

Faure May Stay at Home.

London, Nov. 16.—The Paris correspondent of the Times, with reference to the reports that President Faure will visit Russia by sea in order to avoid traversing foreign territory, and also that he will visit England on the occasion of the Victoria celebration next year, thinks that neither project is likely to be executed.

Chose a Wrong Time to Quarrel.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 16.—William Scheib, German, and Thomas Kirkendall, colored, while hunting, quarreled, and it resulted in the men facing each other with their weapons and opening fire. The negro received the German's load of shot and is dead. Scheib was arrested.

HOUSE COMMITTEES WILL BE CHANGED

MANY IMPORTANT TRANSFERS TO BE MADE.

Prominent Members of the Present Congress Will be Missed in the Next—Belief That Mark Hanna Will Be in the Cabinet as Secretary of Treasury.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Although the next house of representatives will be largely Republican considerable remodeling of committees on account of the new faces that will come into the house will take place. Many Republicans were not re-nominated, and some were not re-elected after having received nominations.

Some of the vacancies are on important committees. That on the committee on rules, caused by the death of Judge Crisp, will have to be filled at once. It has been intimated that Henry G. Turner of Georgia would be selected for the remaining short session, although another person would have to be chosen in the next congress, as Turner was not re-elected. Some of the silver Democrats may object to this, as Turner is a gold man. It is said that Bailey of Texas may be the choice, but if Turner is appointed it will give the Democrats an opportunity to designate the leader of the minority in the next house by the nomination of a candidate for speaker.

There is no change in the Republican membership of the ways and means committee, all being returned. On the Democratic side are three vacancies—Crisp, Turner of Georgia and Cobb of Missouri. On the appropriation committee the Republicans lose four members—Arnold of Rhode Island, Hainer of Nebraska, Blue of Kansas and McCall of Tennessee; and the Democrats Layton of Ohio and Bartlett of New York.

Only one of each party on the accounts committee is left; the Republicans lose Aldrich of Illinois, McCall of Tennessee, Tracey of Missouri and Long of Kansas, and the Democrats Rusk of Maryland, Price of Louisiana and Cobb of Missouri.

MARK HANNA AND THE CABINET.

Belief at Cleveland That He Will Be Secretary of the Treasury.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 16.—The impression among M. A. Hanna's friends is becoming fixed that he will be secretary of the treasury in McKinley's Cabinet. Mr. Hanna was asked if he would discuss the probability of his being selected for that office. He declined to talk about the matter at all. He was reminded that the New York papers had quoted him as saying he would not accept any office, whereupon he made this significant remark: "I don't know that I ever said anything of the kind. I am not responsible for what the papers say about me."

The fact that Gov. Bushnell wants to succeed Sherman in the senate is well known, as is also the fact that the entire Foraker strength will be thrown on Bushnell's side, and the latter's election is almost assured. It is not believed that Hanna could beat Bushnell in a race for senatorial honors, and for that reason the campaign manager, it is declared, is more likely to accept than to refuse a cabinet position.

No Cabinet Position for Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 16.—The impression is gaining ground that the state will not get a cabinet position. It is pretty well understood that if Gen. Harrison should be offered a place in the cabinet he would decline it, and there is no one else in line. It has been suggested from time to time that John K. Gowdy, chairman of the state committee, might be made secretary of agriculture, but he is not looking for any such recognition, and if he is made pension agent at this point he will be satisfied.

Farewell to the Bishops.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 16.—Sunday afternoon a mass-meeting was held in the Central Methodist Episcopal church, which was in the nature of a farewell to Bishop Thoburn and Bishop Hartzell. Bishop Thoburn is about returning to India, where, for thirty-eight years, he has had charge of the Methodist Episcopal mission work of the country. Bishop Hartzell is about to leave for Africa as successor of Bishop William Taylor.

Maceo and Weyler Battle.

KNOW CUBA'S FATE BEFORE MANY DAYS

SPAIN IS DESPERATE AND MUST WIN SOON.

The Success of Gen. Weyler's Recent Movement Against the Rebels the Only Thing That Can Save the Island to the Mother Country—Change Expected.

Washington, Nov. 16.—President Cleveland and Consul General Lee have practically admitted that the situation between Spain and the United States is serious, although every energy of both governments is bent toward avoiding a break in the friendly relations.

The defeat of Spanish arms in Cuba may precipitate trouble inasmuch as the people of Spain have an idea that the sympathy in the United States for Cuba has prolonged the struggle on the island and has led to substantial aid being given the revolutionists. There may be a popular outbreak for this reason which might compel the present Spanish administration to enter into hostilities with this country in order to be popular with their own people.

he government officials here are absolutely convinced that the fate of the island will depend upon the success or failure of Weyler's expedition. They are also convinced that upon the result of this expedition hang the future relations between the United States and Spain.

The general impression here is that no developments of importance will occur in Cuba within the next fortnight. The report of victories won by General Weyler are not accepted as accurate, inasmuch as unfavorable news would not be allowed to come from the island, except in a roundabout way.

ATTEMPT TO KILL A FAMILY.

Frank Koneczal's House, Near Detroit, Wrecked by Dynamite.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 16.—The house of Frank Koneczal, in the township of Springwells, four miles from Detroit, was wrecked late Saturday night by the explosion of a dynamite bomb, which is supposed to have been put there with an idea of killing the whole family.

Koneczal, aged 42 years, is in Emergency hospital with more than a hundred wounds and likely to die; Robert Ewers, aged 22 years, is almost sure to lose both his eyes and be a cripple for life, if he recovers, which is doubtful; and Josie Koneczal is painfully hurt. Several other members of the household were cut and bruised.

Sheriff Collins' officers began searching for Rogolski, an enemy of Koneczal, charged with the crime, and found him at 2:30 o'clock this morning in bed with his clothes on. He tells various stories of his whereabouts. His little daughter and son both contradict him. He is locked up in the county jail.

MAY CALL A GENERAL BOYCOTT

Knights of Labor Fighting an Alleged Counterfeit Label.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 16.—The general assembly of the Knights of Labor will last several days longer. The opposition to General Master Workman Sovereign and General Secretary-Treasurer John W. Hayes is less open than at first and the expectation is that both will be re-elected. General Worthy Foreman M. J. Bishop wishes to retire. A resolution now in committee in relation to the use of a counterfeit Knights of Labor label by a feather company of Chicago. The company was put under the ban by district assembly 9 of Chicago about nine months ago, and it is now proposed to make the boycott general unless the use of the label is discontinued.

Before the assembly adjourns a resolution indorsing the course of General Master Workman Sovereign and other officers in the recent campaign will be presented, to test sentiment on the silver question.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Gen. Wesley Merritt, commanding the department of the Missouri, with headquarters at Chicago, has issued his regular annual report. It shows that all of the posts are in a flourishing condition. Iowa Hogs Dying of Cholera.

Dubuque, Iowa, Nov. 16.—Revised reports from the Dubuque division of the Illinois Central on hog cholera show it prevails at all stations west of Independence to Fort Dodge, except New Hartford, the losses running from 15 to 25 per cent of the stock. North of Waterloo the losses run from 10 to 40 per cent. There is no cholera on the Cedar Rapids branch, except at Robbins. A copy of the report has been sent by request to the federal bureau of animal industry, which will send a commissioner to investigate.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 16.—W. W. Bruce, brother of Saunders D. Bruce, editor of Turf, Field and Farm, died Sunday.

PLEADS FOR ARMENIA.

W. C. T. U. Takes Up the Cause of Persecuted Christians.

St. Louis, Mo., November 16.—Women of the National Christian Temperance union have voiced a determination to aid Armenians. They offered their lives and prayers, they gave some money, and promised more, and then they told President Grover Cleveland all about it in a message, which was sent to Washington before the meeting closed.

A cablegram was read from Constantinople, in which it was stated that at Harpoot 40,000 persons were destitute that $20,000 was needed for food and $25,000 for bedding. Eighty thousand persons were fed last year, and $100,000 would be necessary for the winter's need.

The Rev. F. D. Greene, secretary of the Armenian relief committee, maintained that pointing to the Monroe doctrine admitted no defense of American apathy, and added that the Monroe doctrine had been transformed into a doctrine of Cain, with the sole thought: "Am I my brother's keeper?"

NIAGARA IN HARNESS.

The Great Plant in Motion—Power Delivered to Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 16.—At midnight the turning of a switch in the big power house at Niagara Falls completed a circuit which caused Niagara river to flow up hill, so to speak, by returning a fraction of its resistless energy, which had already swept past the gates of Buffalo, back into that city, twenty-seven miles distant. This morning the street cars of this city moved by falls power.

The distance covered by the line between Buffalo and the falls is twenty-seven miles, and the expert electricians who have the work in charge estimate that the loss of energy will be less than 10 per cent, and may not much exceed 5.

Results of the Vote in Ohio.

Columbus, O., Nov. 16.—With the returns in from every county in the state it is now definitely known what plurality Maj. McKinley will have on the popular vote. The full count shows that the Bryan electors polled 41,000 more votes than were ever cast before in the state for any republican. Maj. McKinley polled 92,000 votes more than were ever cast before for any republican. He gains over last year nearly 100,000. The total vote of the state will reach 1,015,592. This gives an increase over 1895 of 170,000. Out of the eighty-eight counties in the state the republicans carried fifty-five of them and the democrats thirty-three.

Mr. Bryan Speaks at Lincoln.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 16.—William Jennings Bryan delivered two speeches in Lincoln Saturday afternoon and evening, which had previously been announced as the opening guns of the political campaign of 1900. Mr. Bryan in the afternoon talked to an audience at the Funke theater, composed of 1,350 members of the Mary Bryan club (women). At night he delivered a brief address to the Traveling Men's Bryan clubs, the Veterans and Bryan Home Guards at the Funke opera house, and later spoke a few minutes at an overflow meeting at Bohannon's hall.

Fortifying British Columbian Points.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 16.—Having made Victoria and Esquimalt harbors impregnable the British war office is now taking another step in making Esquimalt one of the strongest points in the empire. Not only that, but it is intended to fortify every prenable point along the line of the Canadian Pacific railroad. The north Atlantic fleet is also to be greatly strengthened. When the changes are complete 5,000 men will be in service at this station. Just what this move portends no one here knows.

Total Vote of Minnesota.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 16.—Official returns from seventy-eight Minnesota counties, and complete, but unofficial, returns from the other three, give the vote of the state as 340,909, over 44,000 more than were ever before cast in the state. Of these McKinley received 193,355, Bryan 139,477, Levering 4,082, Palmer 3,209, Matchett 743. McKinley's plurality is 53,878. Clough, rep., was elected governor over Lind, fusion, by 3,543 majority. The republican congressional majority in the state was 41,358.

INSTALL A PASTOR IN BELOIT CHURCH

Pence of Janesville, and the charge to the people by Rev. W. J. Alexander of Argyle.

Wisconsin and the Cabinet.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—Rumors that Wisconsin is likely to have a place in McKinley's cabinet have created considerable comment. Interest in the boom of H. C. Payne of Milwaukee was intensified by the report from New York that ex-Congressman R. M. LaFollette of Madison would be one of those chosen. Should the president-elect choose a man from this state for his political family it is thought it would be for the portfolio of agriculture, and in that case ex-Gov. W. D. Hoard of Fort Atkinson is most likely to be selected of all Wisconsin republicans.

Policy to Be Decided.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—The meeting of the re-elected state officers and the newly elected governor, which is scheduled to occur in Milwaukee on Tuesday next is being anxiously awaited by the present incumbents of such of the state offices as are in the gift of the governor, as it is believed that the policy of the incoming state administration on appointments to office will then be decided.

Resident physicians are formed into committees for their reception and entertainment.

Dupont to Renew His Contest.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 16.—It is reported here today that Colonel Henry A. Dupont will renew his contest for a seat in the United States senate. J. Edwards Addicks is fighting in the courts for sixteen seats in the legislature, on the ground of fraud in Kent and Sussex counties. He expects a decision Thursday, and if it is against him he will make a contest at Washington.

Kentucky Gives Bryan One.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 16.—Bryan will get one electoral vote out of Kentucky's thirteen. He will receive the vote of Elector W. G. Smith, who runs about 200 votes ahead of W. H. Mason. The other twelve McKinley electors run from 300 to 700 votes ahead of the remaining twelve Bryan electors, and thus the vote of the state will be divided.

Weyler Has Poor Success.

Havana, Nov. 16.—Little exact news has been received from Capt.-Gen. Weyler, but it is known that after the engagement at the Rubi hills he continued his march into the interior of the mountains toward Sorra and succeeded in penetrating to points which no other Spanish columns have ever reached. He has had several skirmishes with the insurgents, notwithstanding the advantage of position which they hold in these mountain strongholds, but he has not succeeded in confronting any considerable force.

Cleveland Visit Deferred.

Canton, O., Nov. 16.—The time of the visit of Maj. and Mrs. McKinley to Cleveland may again be postponed. It was announced some time ago that they would leave in a few days for the Forest city. Then the condition of Mrs. McKinley became such that the date of going was changed. Yesterday it was announced by a member of the McKinley household that there is now great uncertainty of the visit being made this week.

Calls for American Corn.

London, Nov. 16.—A correspondent telegraphs to the Times from Allahabad, India, as follows: "Distress is beginning to be felt in the ceded districts of Madras. The Rev. Mr. Campbell, a British missionary, writes from Cuddapah, urging the importation of American maize, which, he says, is half the price of wheat, and would find a ready sale in our up-country villages."

SOME THINGS SAID IN LOCAL PULPITS

EPITOME OF THE SUNDAY SERMONS.

Rev. V. E. Southworth Talks of Ingersoll and Sunday Rest—Rev. H. W. Thompson's Remarks at the First M. E. Church—What Rev. E. H. Pence Said—The Baptist Church.

"What Ingersoll has Done and Undone" was one of the subjects discussed by Rev. V. E. Southworth yesterday. He said in part:

Robert G. Ingersoll has figured in the history of American thought quite as conspicuously as any man of this century.

You remember what Emerson says: "Beware when the good God lets loose a thinker on this planet!" A real thinker, who can give eloquent, clear, and direct expression to his thoughts, is always a thing which the conservative forces have reason to beware of. The people who have got through thinking, who have settled the great questions, whose minds are made up, never enjoy being disturbed. Such men as Ingersoll are too much for them. They resent the new thought as wicked, because it does not wholly harmonize with their fixed finalities. They refuse to open up the old questions or to reconsider their ingrained and over-hasty conclusions.

Ingersoll has been unmercifully condemned by the church because he had the audacity to call into question its favorite doctrines. "Atheist" he has been called; not because he denies the existence of the infinitely Real Being, but because he denies the reasonableness of the Calvinistic conception of deity. "Infidel," he has been called; not because he disbelieves everything, but because he has the manhood to doubt what is doubtful, and to believe only what appeals to his personal reason and experience.

"Skeptic and free thinker" he has been called, because his mental and moral forces have been liberated through a widened intelligence and a large development; because he takes the liberty to deliberately dispute the formulated theological systems of christendom.

Names Not Justly Applied.

I do not think these names can justly be applied to Robert G. Ingersoll. He is an "atheist" only from the point of view of those who worship what he finds repulsive. He is an "infidel" only in the sense that he cannot make himself believe that he believes what orthodox people believe that they believe.

He is a "skeptic and free thinker" only because he stands erect and faces the fact of things, and exercises the natural right of trusting his own impressions and experiences. He believes he has a moral right to challenge the dogmas of the church; he refuses to surrender his mind and heart to the "ipse dixit" of a decayed antiquity.

In this same sense we are all—I mean all liberals—are atheists, infidels and skeptics.

We believe in God; but not in a Calvinistic terror. We doubt what is doubtful just as conscientiously as we believe what is reasonable. We are free to think beyond the limits which ecclesiastical institutions may see fit to set up.

Robert G. Ingersoll is an unmitigated iconoclast. He is an image breaker. He believes that the church needs civilizing; that its paganism ought to be eliminated; that idolatry is idolatry in christian chapel as certainly as at Pagan shrine. And he has been busy using the great gift of his superb oratory in modifying and restraining Christian idolatry.

I sometimes think it would have been as well had Ingersoll been less abrupt and vehement. I think he has sometimes enjoyed his unlovely task. The bull in the crockery shop is not more frisky and festive smashing things than Ingersoll has been in his iconoclastic career.

I would have him make the best of what he does not like. I would have him patient with the imperfections of the church. I would have him see how in spite of these imperfections the ordinary church work is full of heroism, full of self-sacrifice, full of kindness and helpfulness.

Emerson and Ingersoll

Ralph Waldo Emerson was an iconoclast in the same sense as Ingersoll, but in a far more gentle and patient spirit. Emerson understood what Ingersoll, I fear, has failed to understand—that in the mind of medieval ecclesiasticism may bud and blossom the fair white lilies of a noble morality. Emerson said "a whole popedom of forms one pulsation of virtue can uplift and vivify." This recognition of the redeeming traits in what is often so unlovely, this judicial weighing of extenuating circumstances in the life of the church, this broad and generous tolerance would have added a charm and a beauty to Ingersoll's life task I feel sure.

An ideal iconoclast would be something of a combination of the sweetness and light of Emerson and the energy and boldness of Ingersoll. "Such an iconoclast has appeared once, and done his work and gone—and the world ever since has been a somewhat more wholesome place in consequence. That raiding iconoclast of far Judea, that Galilean peasant, that Jesus, whom the centuries can not bury, was the typical reformer. He could denounce evil and weakness in tones so severely tender and so tenderly severe that the hearts were touched and lives purified even when the old images were being dethroned and the new gospel put in their place.

"I am not come to destroy but to fulfill." This keynote of the Christ life is far more true I think than our robust Col. Ingersoll has realized. The church today does not need to be broken down, but to be built up, perfected, fulfilled. And I would that we had men with Ingersoll's genius of oratory and Emerson's serenity and patience to reinvigorate and convert our ecclesiastical and sacerdotal mechanism into a thing of real beauty and power.

Let us trust that in spite of his vehemence, in spite of his sweeping severity the work of Ingersoll may bear fruit to the glory of an enlightened and humanized church. And it may be that coming centuries will give to Robert Ingersoll greater credit than to any surplused bishop or ordained priest of this generation!

Sunday Work and Sunday Rest

Rev. Mr. Southworth also talked of "Sunday Work and Sunday Rest." He said that he believed that any given period of time could be made as holy as any other given period of time. A person's time should be wisely divided between useful work and well earned rest. No cast iron rule could be made, however, for what might be restful for one would be exceedingly tiresome for another. In the treatment of the Sunday question people should be broad minded and generous, for what "was one man's meat, was another man's poison."

AT THE FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

Rev. W. H. Thompson Preached Both Morning and Evening—Other Notes.

In the evening, the pastor, Rev. Thompson, spoke on the "Revolutionary Christ," taking as his text, "These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also; whom Jason hath received; and these all do contrary to the decrees of Caesar, saying that there is another king, one Jesus." The enemies of Christ have little thought that their wrath would be turned to the praise of God. Christians do not seek to create disturbance, so the accusation against them is false in a sense, yet in a sense it does turn the world upside down, for they do try to overturn the work of the devil and his workers. Where the church is idle and resting, the devil has nothing to do, and will be quiet; but where Christians are active the devil is most active. Robert Ingersoll in his work has done wonders to strengthen Christianity in the United States. Christianity is found wherever man is found and whoever accepts it is changed. It lifts them toward heaven, does not crush them down. Let us take comfort in this fact and press onward.

The Evening Service.

In the evening he spoke on "Sin's Terrible Power." His text will be found in Job 12, 16, 27 and 28. Sin is everywhere present, has been handed down for 6,000 years, the headache, woe and sorrows have all grown out of it. A book of memory is kept against us and we will have to meet it in the last day. Memory may be compared to a sensitive plate which takes and retains all impressions, and in the last day it will be reproduced and we will face every idle word, every act. How awful it will be with nothing to offset it! If we will accept Christ He will wash them all away. It is better to guard against sin than to reform. Especially is this true with the liquor traffic, a nation ought not to allow the accursed saloon to exist in every city and hamlet. Sin will come back upon the sinner. Is there no escape? Yes, thank God there is; the vilest sinner may return, and God invites all to come. All ought to haste to accept while there is opportunity. Let us escape this awful thralldom of sin into God's wonderful mercy.

AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Rev. E. H. Pence Preached Two Able Sermons Yesterday.

The subject of Rev. E. H. Pence's sermon yesterday morning was, "The Appeal to Caesar," and his text was Acts 26:32—"Then said Agrippa to Festus, this man might have been set at liberty if he had not appealed to Caesar."

This appeal we must all make. We bring every motive before the bar of some court. Paul had been brought before Agrippa under the charge of insurrection and disturbance of the peace. Before his Jewish prosecutors, he spoke for himself. His defense has become a classic, and Festus' protest is like a reflector. Agrippa, crushed in a corner at bay, opens an argument, but Paul had prepared himself by a greater task, and at last, Agrippa said: "This man might have been set at liberty if he had not appealed to Caesar." But the case must go to a higher court. We want to take our life motives before the lowest court, then to a higher, and then to a still higher. It is liberty that Paul wanted, and it is liberty that you and I seek. It is freedom that we shall obtain this morning if we use our right of appeal grounded in our moral constitution. The lowest court before which we bring our motives for judgment is the court of personal convenience, or selfish pleasure. This court does more business, makes more laws, than any legislature.

Must Go to a Higher Court.

INGERSOLL IS HERE TONIGHT

Great Lecturer Will Talk on "The Bible" at the Myers Grand.

Col. Robert G. Ingersoll will be here tonight and "The Bible" is the title of the lecture that he will deliver at Myers Grand Opera House. It received its initial delivery under the auspices of the Chicago Press Club, in the great auditorium of Chicago, and created the most profound sensation of anything the inimitable master of speech has uttered since he first burst like an oratorical sun in the world of abstract thought.

The press of Chicago united in declaring "The Bible" to be Ingersoll's masterpiece—the calm dispassionate pronouncement of judgment by a philosopher and friend of humanity. The lecture is a serious analysis of the Bible and Ingersoll maintains vigorously throughout his theme: "In the nature of things there can be no evidence to establish the claim of inspiration." The climax of interest in the lecture was reached when after he had exhaustively enumerated the wrongs to humanity that have been done in the name of Christ, he declared that "if Christ was in fact God, he knew all the future. Why did He go dumbly to His death, leaving the world in misery and doubt? I will tell you why. He was a man and did not know." The Times said: "When Mr. Ingersoll reached the words 'and did not know,' a great sigh went up from the audience. There was an instant's silence, and then a storm of applause that rose and surged and echoed from stage to topmost gallery. The hand clapping died away, then rose again; this time a great burst of cheering accompanied it. Ingersoll, like his hearers, knew he had just achieved one of the great triumphs of a life that had been crowded with triumphs. Men who have heard him time and again in the years past shook their heads gravely and said that he had never done anything so masterful, so superb, and so full of resistless eloquence."

SPOONER'S ELECTION SEEMS SURE

Very Little Opposition to Him is Manifest—W. G. Wheeler's Position.

The Sentinel's poll of the republican members-elect of the legislature as to their choice for United States senator, begun last Sunday, has progressed so far that replies have been received from ninety-four of the 120 republicans in the senate and assembly. Of these eighty have declared their preference or that of their constituents for Mr. Spooner, while of the others one declares for Mr. Sawyer and sixteen are non-committal as yet, although it is known some of them, and perhaps most of them are in favor of Mr. Spooner's nomination. It was not believed there would be any opposition to Mr. Spooner. In fact no other candidate has been mentioned, but The Sentinel's poll has made Mr. Spooner's election as Senator Vilas' successor absolutely certain two months in advance of the fact itself. The replies of the members-elect to The Sentinel's inquiry have also made certain the further fact that there will be no contest. Even the formality of a caucus will not be necessary. W. G. Wheeler's reply was printed yesterday. He said:

Janesville, Wis., Nov. 14—My choice for United States senator is the Hon. John C. Spooner. No other sentiment here.

WILLIAM G. WHEELER.

THE WIRE NAIL TRUST TO ACT

Drastic Means To Be Adopted To Kill Off Opposition.

A man who is familiar with the affairs of the wire nail trust, says a drop in the price of nails is likely to come soon. The sharp increase within the past two years has led to the starting of numerous small factories to compete with the trust, and this man says the trust will drive these competitors out of the field by cutting the prices. He predicts a drop of from $2.60, the present price, to $1.75. At the latter figure, he says, the trust can make money because it manufactures its own wire, but the small factories which buy their wire from other mills, cannot do business at a profit at the figure named.

THE DEATH OF E. A. CHARLTON.

The Brodhead Editor Was Well Known In The State.

Edwin A. Charlton, senior editor of the Brodhead Independent died at his home in that city Saturday morning. Mr. Charlton had been something of an invalid for a number of years, and for the past two months had been confined to his room. The end came peacefully, and the husband and father "fell on sleep."

Mr. Charlton was for years president of the Normal school at Platteville, Wis., and previous to his coming to Wisconsin was a teacher of high standing in the east. Thoroughly a scholar, thoughtful and retiring, only those who knew him best appreciated this wise counselor and true friend. For years an honored member of the State Press association. His loss will be felt wherever the Independent is known. But most of all does the cloud fall heaviest over the home where the devoted wife and idolized daughter are left alone. To Mrs. Charlton and Miss Winnifred will be extended the sympathy of many hearts throughout the state.

Too Indifferent.

It is not always well to be heedless and indifferent to others, as the following story shows:

A fat old gentleman in a light gray suit got into an elevated train at Thirty-fourth street and bustled every one out of his way in order to secure the only vacant seat left on the shady side of the car. As soon as he had thrown himself into the seat, he buried his face in a newspaper in order that he might not see how many women were standing in the car. The train had hardly pulled out of the station when a poorly dressed and undoubtedly Irish woman who sat next to him touched him on the arm, and said:

"I beg your pardon, sorr—"

The old gentleman looked up and frowned and then turned to his newspaper again.

"Will you be so good, sorr—" began the woman again.

The fat man in the gray suit glared savagely, but gave no reply. Several times the woman tried to make him speak. At last, just after the guard had announced "Ninth street!" the woman said again, "I really beg your pardon, sorr, but—"

The fat man turned upon her savagely, his face very red, and exclaimed: "If you don't stop talking to me, woman, I'll call the conductor and have you put off the car."

"Shure, sorr," exclaimed the woman, "I'm after gettin' off at Ninth street, but, conductor or no conductor, I won't get out until you get off my butter that you've been sittin' in since you got on at Thirty-fourth street!"

Changes in English.

The English language of to-day is quite different in many respects from the English spoken only 100 years ago; on the other hand, the Dutch spoken by the Boers of South Africa does not differ greatly from the same language spoken 200 years ago, the Boers during that time having had very little intercourse with the mother country, and so their language remains almost fixed. Many languages are devoid of certain sounds quite familiar to us. The Chinese for instance, has no sound equivalent to our "r." For America, a Chinaman says "Yamelikk." The Society Islanders could not pronounce either "e" or "k" and the nearest approach they could make to the name of the celebrated navigator "Cook," who visited their shores, was "Tut."—Boston Budget.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1272—Death of Henry III of England after a reign of 50 years.

1315—Battle of Morgarten; the Swiss defeated the Austrians.

1632—Gustavus Adolphus, the idealized king of Sweden, killed at the battle of Lutzen after defeating the imperial army under Wallenstein.

1776—The British captured Fort Washington, completing their conquest of New York.

After his defeat on Long Island, in August, Washington retired to the heights on the northern part of Manhattan Island, leaving the city under the guns of the enemy's ships; battles were fought at Harlem Plains, Harlem Heights and White Plains, but the patriots were compelled to give ground, and Washington crossed with his main army to New Jersey. The orders of the chief to his subordinate at Fort Washington were to hold out to the last extremity, but the forces of the enemy had been misrepresented. The position was attacked from three directions, and wholesale slaughter of the garrison was only prevented by surrender.

1811—John Bright, English statesman, born; died 1889.

1865—Rev. Dr. Samuel Smith, author of "America," died in Boston; born 1808.

Remarkable Work of a Tame Crane.

A writer on "Animal Helpers and Servers," in the Cornhill Magazine, gives a remarkable account of a tame crane communicated by Von Seyffert. Von Seyffert had a pair of tame cranes, which soon lost all fear of man and of domestic animals, and became strongly attached to the former. Their life in a German village, in which agriculture was the sole employment, and the communal system of joint herding of cattle and swine, and driving them together to the common pasture, prevailed, was very much to their taste.

They soon knew all the inhabitants in the place, and until the female crane died, used to call regularly at the houses to be fed. Then the female died, and the survivor at once took as a new friend a bull. He would stand by the bull in the stall and keep the flies off him, screamed when he roared, danced before him and followed him out with the herd. In this association the crane saw and remarked the duties of the cow-herd, and one evening he brought home the whole of the village herd of heifers unaided, and drove them into the stable. From that time the crane undertook so many duties that it was busy from dawn till night. He acted as policeman among the poultry, stopping all fights and disorder. He would stand by a horse when left in a cart, and prevent it from moving by pecking its nose and screaming. A turkey and a gamecock were found fighting; whereon the crane first fought the turkey, and then sought out and thrashed the cock. Meantime it always "herded" the cattle, not always with complete success. These were collected in the morning by the sound of a horn, and some would lag behind. On one occasion the crane went back drove up some lagging heifers through the street, and then frightened them so much that they broke away and ran two miles in the wrong direction. The bird could not bring them back, but drove them into a field, where it guarded them until they were fetched. It would drive out trespassing cattle as courageously as a dog, and unlike most busybodies, was a universal favorite, and the pride of the village.

Trinidad's Pitch Lake.

A remarkable phenomenon in the Island of Trinidad is the "Pitch lake," situated at La Brea, about sixteen miles from the Port of Spain, the capital of the island. It is about one and a half miles in circumference and elevated 80 feet above the level of the sea. The water is covered almost entirely with a stratum of asphaltum, traversed by fissures and crevices filled with water. The pitch at the sides is perfectly hard and cold, but as one walks towards the middle the heat gradually increases, and the pitch becomes softer and softer. At last it is seen boiling up in a liquid state and the air is strongly impregnated with bitumen and sulphur. During the rainy season it is possible to walk over nearly the whole lake, but in the hot weather a great part cannot be approached. This pitch is much used in the island for roads, pavements and roofs, and is exported to the United States and Canada.

Exchange for Models.

At an inn near Place Rochefort, in Paris, there is an exchange for the hiring of artists' models. They assemble there every Monday and Tuesday in the hope of obtaining employment. When engaged the models are generally paid from 15 to 30 francs per week. Sometimes they get more. They sit for three hours a day. When artists are seeking for models the palm of beauty and symmetry of figure is given to the girls of Spain, while those of Ireland are a good second. The prettiest faces and most graceful throats are said to be found among the English maidens. A model for a perfect arm is sought for among the Grecian women. Italian women are noted among the Parisian artists for having the best figures.

hand upon us, but there comes a time when the appeal must be made to a higher court to determine our action. First, the cold, calculating policy. Personal pleasure is not always wise in its decisions. For instance, it may be my personal pleasure to become suddenly rich, without regard to the means of attaining that end, and dishonesty may seem profitable. But honesty takes an appeal from the court of selfish pleasure and argues the case before the judge. Policy and common worldly prudence, and a decision is quickly arrived at—a decision which has become a proverb, that honesty is the best policy. Worldly prudence has now become an established court of original jurisdiction. But we have not yet reached an infallible decision of a court which makes final law for us, for if it is true that a man may be governed by a thought that honesty—a show of virtue—is the best policy, there may come a time when dishonesty may seem a better policy. No man is safe who permits his soul to come under the sway of the decision of mere worldly prudence. There is yet another appeal to be made, for we have not yet found a judge whose decision in every circumstance is to be followed. It is to moral obligation that we come now, and it is at this appeal that a great many people stop and stumble, who seem to be right, though they feel no impulsion toward it, have no interest in it, no love for it. Righteousness is not merely knowing right and wrong, but in being right, doing right, loving right.

Right Not a Dark Picture

When we appeal to moral obligation, we feel within us a new impulsion. Wrong takes on a character it did not seem to have before. Right is no longer a dark picture, but a law of beauty, seeking incarnation in me as light seeks embodiment in the plant. So, you ask is conscience the final judge. No. For conscience may be warped. In the name of conscience awful crimes have been committed. No, it does not plead conscience as a justification of your crime. We want the final judgment, and we come not to the court of decision, we appeal to Caesar. The appeal to Caesar is the appeal to Almighty God. Only in the appeal to Christ can you come into full liberty. You can only become free men and free women when you make the appeal as Paul did to the highest court. Then, at the command of the king, you can step forth into the liberty and privilege of a citizen of a boundless empire.

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

Dr. Hodge and Rev. Addison Moore, of St. Paul, Preached.

Dr. Hodge took for his morning text Matt. 23:33. "These ought ye to have done and not to leave the other undone." In regard to the Sabbath observance question, he said that while it is right that the Sabbath should be a day of cessation from labor, it should be more than a day of physical rest.

Rev. Addison Moore, pastor of the Woodland Park Baptist church, of St. Paul, occupied the pulpit in the evening, taking as his text Ps. 119:105, "Thy word is a lamp unto my path." He said the bible has stood the greatest of all tests, being able to meet the needs of the lives of men.

The missionary meeting of the Endeavor society was led by Mrs. Dupwiddle. Interesting papers on the work of the missionary unions were presented by different members of the society.

The Christian Culture class meets in the church parlors at 7:30 this evening.

The Ladies' Aid society meets for work Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Mark Honeysett, 658 Pleasant street.

THE DOOR OF HOPE MISSION.

Plans Made for a Thanksgiving Dinner For Poor Children.

The Door of Hope mission is meeting a long felt need among non-church going people. In its open air meetings its workers reach a class who otherwise never would listen to the gospel of Christ. Its indoor meetings are well attended, and the interest is increasing. Many poor families are visited and helped with food and clothing, and many fed at the Mission home.

On Thanksgiving day a dinner will be given to the poor children at the Mission hall.

Such a work as this ought to be encouraged and helped.

PANIC ON PASSENGER CARS.

Pipe Broke and People Didn't Know What It Was.

A panic was caused this morning on the 7 o'clock Northwestern passenger train. Too strong pressure of steam from the engine into the hose pipe connection between the cars caused the pipe to burst, with a report that was heard two blocks away. Passengers in the coaches not knowing the trouble rushed from the cars.

Boarding-House Incident.

It occurred at the boarding house of Mrs. Flapjack, on Ross avenue. Mrs. Flapjack was carving the breakfast mackerel when she spoke up and said: "I see that a Miss Finch, a girl living in Ohio, has been living 80 days without food."

"Is that all?" remarked Gilhooly, sadly. "I've boarded here for the last seven years."

He got the head of the mackerel for his share that morning.—Texas Sifter.

Cause of the Trouble.

The society editor was explaining the matter.

"Mrs. Gadabout does not feel very friendly to us now," she said.

"Why not?"

"Well, she gave quite an elaborate dinner recently and asked me not to mention it in the paper."

"And you ignored her wishes?"

"Yes; I ignored her wishes. I didn't mention it."—Chicago Post.

HOUSE BURNS AWAY WHILE THEY SLEPT

NARROW ESCAPE OF MR. AND MRS. BAUM.

Neighbor Discovered the Blaze and Inmates Had to Flee For Their Lives—Building and Contents Destroyed—Smelled the Smoke at Midnight—Loss is $500.

An incipient fire that had been smoldering since midnight, was fanned by a breeze that gave it life early this morning, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baum had to flee precipitately from their residence on the "Delavan road."

The house and contents were totally destroyed, the loss being $500 and the insurance $400.

The fire was discovered by a neighbor at 6:10 o'clock this morning. The residence was wrapped in flames before Mr. and Mrs. Baum awoke, and they were forced to abandon everything to escape. An alarm was turned in from box 313, and the department was quickly on hand. The fire was several blocks from a hydrant, and 1,200 feet of hose had to be laid. The residence was on the top of a hill, so "direct pressure" was ordered, and quickly given by the water company.

Little or nothing was saved from the house, so fierce was the fire. The man who turned in the alarm, said he hesitated in doing so, as the building was about gone when he first saw the flames.

Mr. Baum told Chief Spencer that he smelled smoke at midnight last night, and got up and searched for fire, but did not find it. The blaze started in a "lean too" in the rear of the house.

THE CARES OF EARTH ARE OVER

Francis Nelthorpe.

Francis Nelthorpe closed his eyes in the last long sleep at 11:35 o'clock Sunday evening at his home on Cornell street in the Second ward, after an illness that had continued through two years. Mr. Nelthorpe was born in London, England, on May 8, 1843. He came to Janesville with his family in March, 1885, and since then had made Janesville his home. About two years ago he was taken ill with a stomach trouble that seemed to defy medical skill. Slowly he grew worse and during the past few days his death had been expected at any time. Beside the widow, four children are left, they being Francis F., Edgar, Harry and Louise Nelthorpes.

Mr. Nelthorpe was a quiet, unassuming man, and was much respected by all who knew him. He was domestic in his habits, and devoted his time to his home and his children. To his acquaintances, rather than to the world at large, was his sterling manhood revealed, and in the hour of their sorrow, the bereaved ones have the sympathy of many who can realize, in a measure, the character of their bereavement.

The funeral will be held from Christ church at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral of John Wolfgram

The remains of John Wolfgram were interred yesterday afternoon in Oak Hill cemetery. Services were held from the residence of Mrs. Otto Graf at 1:30 o'clock and from St. Paul's church at 2:30. The pallbearers were Andrew Schaller, William Thom, Karl Heise, August Lucke, William Lefebvre and Fred Schmidt.

Funeral of Arthur Smith.

The remains of Arthur Smith arrived in the city on the noon train and were taken direct to Oak Hill cemetery for interment. Rev. A. H. Barrington of Christ Episcopal church officiated, brief services being held at the grave. The pallbearers were W. M. Eld edge, Robert M. Bostwick, Edwin Fifield, J. B. Dearborn, C. I. Sloan and W. E. Evenson.

Funeral of John Keenan.

Funeral services over the remains of John Keenan were held this morning at 8 o'clock, from St. Patrick's church, the Rev. Dean McGinnity officiating. At the close of the service the remains were taken to Monroe, where they were interred this morning. The pallbearers were Chas. Viney, Richard Davey, Peter Dolan, Edwin Murphy, John Hennessey and Hugh M. Joyce.

LEE WENT INSANE AFTER THE STROKE

WELL KNOWN CARPENTER IS QUITE ILL.

Found Helpless in His Shop From Paralysis and Afterward His Mind Became Deranged—Advanced Age Lessens Chance of Recovery But Friends Hope For the Best.

Charles H. Lee of No. 6 Dickson street, is now in the county hospital for the insane in a critical condition, as the result of a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Lee is one of Janesville's oldest and best known citizens, an ex-soldier and a member of the Masonic order. For a number of years he had conducted a carpenter shop near the corner of Main and Court streets. Mr. Lee had complained of not feeling well of late, but nothing serious was anticipated. One night he failed to put in an appearance at his home, and William Witham, a neighbor, went to Mr. Lee's shop. Here he found Mr. Lee lying on the floor in a helpless condition, as the result of a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Lee was taken home, and physicians found that his right side was paralyzed. A clot of blood had formed on the brain, and as a result Mr. Lee became deranged. His removal to the hospital was recommended, and as Mr. Lee is seventy-three years old, his recovery is somewhat doubtful. His many friends, however, will hope for the best.

WATER COMMITTEE MET AGAIN TODAY

SESSION DECLARED TO HAVE NO SIGNIFICANCE.

It Is Said That "Something Had Turned Up" Since the Report Was Formulated—Report Will Be Presented Tonight—May Submit Matter to Vote.

The report of the water works committee will be presented to the council tonight.

Just what the report will set forth, is a matter of speculation, but the main part—whether or not the city can legally buy—seems to be still in doubt. It is understood that the idea of submitting the question to a vote of the people will be recommended.

Another meeting of the committee was held at the city hall this afternoon, and it was surmised that the meeting "meant something," as the report had been made out some days ago. Whether or not something has developed since the report was drawn up, is not known, and members of the committee are not communicative.

but City Attorney McElroy said this afternoon that there was "nothing new," and that the report would be presented this evening.

ARRANGING CURTAINS.

Points on a Subject That Causes Many Women to Despair.

The arranging of Windsor curtains is a matter of despair to more than one housewife, who either must put them up in a slovenly, half hearted way or depend on the professional draper. Artistic draping is much like trimming a hat—it takes an experienced hand to do it well. For a chamber window there can be nothing more dainty than curtains of snowy muslin, either striped, figured or plain, finished by the fullest of frills along the edge and arranged prettily at the windows. It is useless to try to make one curtain take the place of two. It is a feat that cannot be accomplished with success. Two good, full curtains are necessary, long enough to admit being tied up without escaping the floor by too great a distance.

A pretty idea is to cross the curtains, if of thin material, at the top, catch them back on a level with the window sill and tie them with immense knots of muslin.

Women and Professional Life.

Woman was created by her Maker to be the helpmate of man and to fill those highest and holiest of earthly callings—wife and mother. Married life is her natural sphere. The qualities which are needed to perfectly fulfill the duties of such a state are inherent within the true woman. When she assumes these duties, they are her life and her first thought. She will never forget or neglect them through the influence of past experiences or present necessities in another channel. In this age the practical side of our life is paramount. Professional life makes a woman more practical, more economical and of better judgment and must therefore fit her to be a greater helpmate to her husband. The true woman will never be independent of her husband, although capable of earning her own living, but will ever rely upon him and strive to fulfill his wishes. There are exceptions to all rules, but the true woman can never be unfitted for the highest fulfillment of the duties in her natural sphere of wife and mother by contact with professional life.—W. G. H. in Philadelphia Press.

Tinsel in Dress Goods.

This is to be a glittering season, says a fashion writer. Even the new cloth dress goods are woven with tinsel threads, and very pretty are the effects thus obtained. In the dark silk and wool mixtures the gleaming suggestion of tinsel is most effective. The newest gauze to be used, either as a trimming or for entire evening gowns, comes striped with either gold or silver, and the latest mousseline de soie is embroidered with glittering threads. From England comes the rumor that a powder has been made with luminous properties which, when applied to fabrics of all descriptions, will give to them the brilliant, scintillating coloring of the opal by day and render them phosphorescent by night. If this powder is all that the inventor believes it, we will soon have luminous chiffon frills and changing, glowing silks, which will look as if their designs had been dipped in fire.

She Loved Study.

Miss Anna Eliot Ticknor, who has lately died at Newport, R. I., was a daughter of George Ticknor, the historian. She was known not only in Boston, her native city, but every part of the country, through the Society For Home Study, which she established more than 25 years ago. She inherited a love of study and of books from her father, and her last years were devoted almost entirely to this plan for encouraging young people who were unable to take a college education to make the most of their opportunities and spare moments at home. She was also appointed one of a commission to superintend the disposal of a state fund for establishing public libraries in cities and towns where there were none.

Athletic Womanhood.

The revolution which has taken place in the training of girls within the past 20 years is almost beyond conception. The time will soon come when a reference to "the weaker sex" will provoke a look of inquiry, a merry challenge of the speaker. If our girls keep on as they have begun, there is no telling what degree of physical prowess will be reached by the women of another generation.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Plucky Helen Kellar.

With her hearing, sight, smell and taste all gone, Helen Kellar has still managed to learn more about the world she is living in than most people ever learn with all their senses to help them. If she lives a dozen years longer, she is likely to be one of the best educated women in the world, an example to all the world of what pluck and patience can do in accomplishing the impossible.—New York World.

How Furs Will Be Worn.

This season one has a fine opportunity of using advantageously all the furs, new and old, in one's wardrobe, for the fashion of combining two kinds of fur on one garment, added to the fact that many furs formerly out of style are again in high favor, makes it an easy matter for the maid who has kept these valuable accessories of winter toilets in some place where moths did not corrupt. These may be gathered together, sent to a fashionable furrier and returned completely metamorphosed into wraps both beautiful and useful.

Persian lamb, chinchilla, sable, seal-skin and mouton, which is light gray in color, are the most fashionable furs, but all the cheaper varieties seem to have their uses. Chinchilla is combined with seal this season, and short capes of sable are used over longer ones of seal. The fur boleros will be a useful fashion for those who have a small amount of fur to be transformed into a fashionable garment. These are very becoming to slight figures and very stylish with wide revers. The new fur coats are rather short, not so full in the basque as they were last season, and have loose fronts.—Detroit Free Press.

Useful and Elegant.

An apron which can be made longer should come quite to the edge of the skirt and will be found suitable for cooking, dusting or painting. It may be cut out of cotton or holland and will take from four to five yards of zephyr. There is a swiss waistband, with the fullness gathered on to it. The bib has small turned down revers and braces over the shoulders, all trimmed with narrow white braid. This braid may, however, be omitted, as it takes ten yards. The skirt must be made ample, so as to well cover the dress beneath.

A useful addition to this apron is a pair of full bishop sleeves. These are made separately, gathered at the top on to elastic, and so keep the dress sleeves nice. There are small close cuffs that button at the wrist. With such an apron, the freshest costume may be kept unspotted during the performance of household tasks.

Jean Ingelow.

Miss Jean Ingelow may now be said to be the most popular of the English poets in the world. She is a quiet, shy looking lady of 62 years of age and inhabits a pretty house in London, where those who take the trouble to seek her out receive always a kind and cordial reception. Like most true poets, she has a very accurate mind and has a horror of untidy or slipshod ways. She still works hard and finds her greatest relaxation in the study of botany. Her kindness of heart has become proverbial, for three times a week she gives what she calls a copyright dinner to 12 poor persons just discharged from the hospitals. Although not a frequent visitor to fashionable drawing rooms, Miss Ingelow has an immense circle of friends, both known and unknown.—Pearson's Weekly.

Gilding the Chains.

A new type of new woman has appeared in London. When a man offered her a seat in a car the other day, she refused it, saying: "Indeed, no. This so called politeness on the part of mankind is only the gilding of our chains. Men are polite because they think women inferior to them. If they looked upon us as their equals, these stupid gallantries would cease."

Gold Teas.

Gold teas and gold dinners are the fashion of the hour. The china is white and gold, the flowers are yellow chrysanthemums or some other yellow blossom, the ices and ings to cakes are yellow, and, if a dinner, the name cards are large (pasteboard) goldpieces, representing our various coins in that metal.

An excellent substitute for potatoes at a dinner is rice cooked in milk and well salted, put into a dish and browned in the oven. Make a hot lemon sauce and pour it over the rice when it is taken from the oven and just before the dish is sent to the table.

Batting made from lamb's wool is now used for filling the best comfortables that are made. It is much warmer than cotton and very light. It comes in two and three pound sheets that are 76 by 84 inches.

Nearly 60,000 women voted for the first time at the recent general elections in South Australia. The exact figures are 59,066 women, which compare favorably with 77,464 men.

A woman with a pretty hand spoils it by wearing rings, but you couldn't make one in a thousand believe it.

How many young men and young women are cut off just when the future seems brightest and fullest of promise? They are taken away by the disease which causes over one-sixth of all the deaths in the world—the disease which doctors call consumption. There is absolutely no reason in the world why consumption should be fatal—why it should be even serious. It is a disease of the blood, and can be cured absolutely and always by purifying and enriching the blood. The only exception to this is the case where the disease has been neglected and improperly treated until it is stronger than the body—until the body has become so weak as to have lost the ability to recuperate. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption if used according to directions. It also cures all lingering coughs, bronchial and throat affections.

HOW TOT IS NEGLECTED.

Difference Between the City Child and Its Country Cousin.

Taking the little child out for exercise too often means a promenade for personal pleasure, in which the well-being of a child is not for a moment considered. He is held in with a tight rein, made to walk slow or fast, to suit his conductor, jerked away from sights that attract his attention, snubbed when he asks questions and scolded in a hard, mechanical way, that has the inevitable effect of dulling his sensibilities, and either making him rebellious or cowardly, as his disposition inclines toward boldness or timidity. One hour's untrammelled freedom was worth, for health, days of such perfunctory outings, and the moral effect would be far happier. Doubtless much of the docility of the country child indoors is owing to the liberty he enjoys out of the house. If our city children had playgrounds of their own, there would be much less insubordination among them. But if we can not altogether satisfy their natural desires, let us at least do what we can. Let us give them every innocent liberty, recollecting that staid as we ourselves are now, there was a time when the feeling of the sunshine and fresh air mounted like wine to our heads, when our blood stirred in quicker currents, our muscles twitched with the impulses of motion, and a little physical freedom, of the kind young animals enjoy, seemed to us the finest thing in the world.—Florence Hull Winterburn, in Ladies' Home Journal.

Rochefort's Wife Sues for Divorce.

Henri Rochefort has been sued for divorce. The case was to have been called the other day at Paris and tried in camera, but both parties were out of town, and the suit fell through. It will, however, probably be renewed after the long vacation by Mme. Rochefort, nee de Brede. This lady is a devout Savoyard, a devout Catholic, and was, in the Comte de Chambord's lifetime, a Legitimist. She formed a romantic attachment for M. Rochefort before she ever saw him, and after his escape from New Caledonia got a mutual friend to propose marriage. She was nice looking, young, fairly rich, and well bred. M. Rochefort was grateful to her for the interest she took in him, and, being a widower, said "Yes" to the matchmaker. The marriage was celebrated in Switzerland. Incompatibility of disposition soon showed itself. The lady was conventional and had rigid principles, or habits of mind that she took for principles. M. Rochefort prized personal liberty above anything else. What with the prim manners of Geneva and the uncongenial home influence of Mme. Rochefort, his pen lost its sparkle, and he had to choose, he said, between reverting to bachelorhood or to depend on his wife for bread. Besides, he had three children. Mme. Rochefort's principles did not admit of her suing for a divorce until it was represented to her that she could get the ruling of a French tribunal supplemented by a declaration of nullity of marriage from Rome. Her great idea is, that she has lived apart from M. Rochefort for eighteen years, and that he deserted the conjugal home. He is certain not to offer opposition.—New York Times.

An Extraordinary Escape.

One of the worst storms that ever visited the English coast took place in 1703, when so many ships were destroyed that the gale became historic. A man-of-war, named Mary, with Rear-Admiral Beaumont aboard, struck on the Goodwin Sands, and every soul perished except one. This sole survivor of a crew of two hundred and seventy was called, curiously enough, Thomas Atkins. He was carried by a big wave right off his own ship and planted on the Stirling Castle, a vessel that was being borne broadside on to the fatal sands. While she was being smashed to atoms one of her boats was washed away, and at that self-same moment a huge sea flung Atkins overboard, and he fell into the small boat. This little craft bobbed about on the angry waters, and in the end Atkins managed to reach shore. But two such escapes of such a similar character are little short of marvellous. Indeed, one would hesitate to believe them were they not accepted as fact by so capable an historian of the sea as Mr. Clark Russell.

Natural Toothpicks.

Toothpicks prepared by nature are a product of Spain and Mexico. Amni visnaga, an umbelliferous plant, is called the "toothpick bishop weed" on account of the use made in Spain of the rays or stalks of the main umbel. These, after flowering, shrink, and become so hard that they form convenient toothpicks. After they have fulfilled this purpose they are chewed, and are supposed to be of service in strengthening the gums.

The spines of Echinocactus visnaga are in common use among the Mexicans for the same purpose. The number of these spines upon a single plant is something enormous. A comparatively small plant was estimated to have 17,600, and a large specimen could have no fewer than 51,000.

The Salt of the Sea.

Every ton of Atlantic water when evaporated yields 81 pounds of salt; a ton of Pacific water, 79 pounds; Arctic and Antarctic waters yield 85 pounds to the ton, and Dead Sea water, 187 pounds.

Liberal.

Mabel—Papa, give me money to buy material for one of those new bathing suits.
Papa—Here's a quarter. Get enough for two or three.—Brooklyn Life.

Correct.

The teacher was making her scholars finish each of her sentences to show that they understood her.
"The idol had eyes," she said, "but it couldn't—"
"See," cried the children.
"It had ears, but it couldn't—"
"Hear," was the answer.
"It had lips, but it couldn't—"
"Speak," once more repeated the class.
"It had a nose, but it couldn't—"
"Wipe it!" shouted the children.—London Mail.

Their Object.

"There are burglars trying to get into the cellar!" she exclaimed.
In an instant he had leaped into his clothes and started downstairs.
"My diamonds!" she exclaimed.
"Shall I hide them?"
"You might hide them if you want to," he answered, pausing at the door.
"But I don't think diamonds would be much inducement to them. My theory is that they've somehow found out about that ton of anthracite coal we bought yesterday."—Washington Star.

Raps for Spirits.

Dukane—I saw Soker order a drink yesterday. He merely rapped on the bar and the barkeeper served him without any delay.

Gaswell—That's a way he has, you know.

"Does he always rap when he orders drinks?"

"Only when he wants whisky. They are spirit raps, you know."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Unkind Fate.

"It must have been a thrilling sight when the bandages were taken off De Benyon's eyes and he was able to see again, after ten long years of blindness."

"It was. He burst into tears and reached for the bandages again. The first object his eyes rested upon happened to be a girl in bloomers."—Chicago Tribune.

The Church Fair.

It was a Bangor philosopher who summed up a church fair in these terms:

"A church fair is a place where we spend more money than we can afford for things we do not want in order to please people whom we do not like and to help the heathens, who are happier than we are."—Boston Herald.

Her Ultimate Destiny.

"What became of the Holman girl who used to stand so high in the classics?"

"Oh, she became famous."

"What did she do? Translate the Iliad?"

"No; she wrote an essay on how to live on two cents a day by using a chafing dish."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Woman's Advantage.

Artistic Friend—And so you are to be married?

Miss Marie Bilkins (struggling artist)—Yes, it is simply impossible to sell a picture with such a name as Bilkins on it, so I have accepted the heart and hand of a grocery clerk named De La Croix.—N. Y. Weekly.

An Unkind Retort.

Mrs. Dusenberry—It's dreadful to be disappointed in love.

Mr. Dusenberry—There is something a great deal worse than that.

"What, for instance?"

"To be disappointed in marriage."—Texas Sifter.

Love's Sacrifice.

He squandered ten dollars for roses, you see—

Her joy in the gift was immense;

But little she dreamed that his dinner would be

Three buckwheats that cost him ten cents.

—Chicago Record.

A TERRIBLE EXAMPLE.

"Ah, now, Fritz, you can see for yourself how badly it looks to yawn without holding your hand over your mouth."—Fliegende Blaetter.

The Politician.

With the "welfare of the masses"—

His oration was begun;

Yet he always, as he passes,

Keeps an eye on number one.

—Chicago Record.

She Thought So.

Wife—How are you pleased with our new maid?

Husband—Very much.

Wife—I thought so; I have discharged her.—Fliegende Blaetter.

Cause and Effect.

She—My husband comes from a long-lived family.

He—I see; the women-folks have never had to do their own cooking?—Yonkers Statesman.

Had Faith in His Honor.

"Prisoner, the jury has declared you guilty."

"Oh, that's all right, my lord; you're too intelligent a man, I think, to be influenced by what they say."—Tit-Bits.

Reconciled.

"Have Scribbler, the author, and his wife made up?"

"Oh, yes. She now reads what he writes and he eats what she cooks."—Fliegende Blaetter.

And Still He Slept Not.

Cumso—Have you tried anything for your insomnia, Cawker?

Cawker—Of course I have. I've tried all the infallible cures.—N. Y. World.

THE TINIEST BICYCLE GIRL.

Little Margerie Payne, of Tonawanda, N. Y. Is an Expert.

There is something funny in the spectacle of an octogenarian—man or woman—clad in the outing garb of the period, scorching up and down the bicycle paths in the park, gay as if the wheel's magic had cancelled half a century of their years and made them young again. But it is funnier yet to see little Margerie Payne, who is without question the most diminutive wheel-woman in the world, stooping over the handle bars of her miniature machine and doing her baby best to make pace for her father. Small Margerie is the daughter of Lewis T. Payne, a leading member of the Tonawanda bar. Before the mite had forsaken her baby talk she began to clamor for a "bitick," and at last her parent ordered a machine for her from a western house. The wheel has a tiny twelve-inch frame, wheels which look almost like watch wheels, and is probably the smallest ever known for actual use, but is thoroughly first-class in every respect. The little mistress of this lilliputian conveyance learned to ride very readily, and from constant practice has reached a degree of expertness which is incredible. Though only a little over four years old, she can ride at a rattling pace, and without touching so much as a baby finger to the handles.

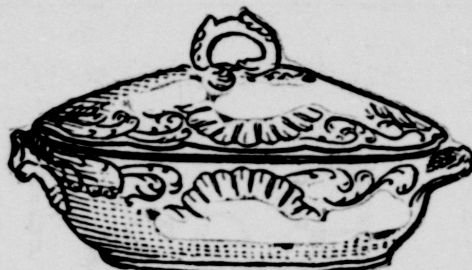

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros., of that place; and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

How to Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. BUTLER, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to bilious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." Writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. "This cold left me with a cough and I was expecting all the time. The Remedy cured me and I want all my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good." Sold at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

Fine grained gypsum, when pure, is known in the arts as alabaster. Whether alabaster was named from the town in Egypt, Alabastro, or the town was named from the extensive quarries found there, is doubtful. A small scent bottle, with a round bottom and flat rim was called an alabaster in ancient times because originally made from this stone.
